An elegant and friendly script typeface.

ALPHA

Let's explore Raconteurs, our latest font, still in its alpha v0.1 stage.

This elegant and friendly typeface invites you to delve into a narrative of unconventional contrast and harmonious interplay between full-bodied strokes and delicate connections, creating a texture reminiscent of lace and spaghetti.

What sets this font apart? The interest lies in its one-stroke execution of letterforms, crafting a seamless tapestry where each letter gracefully links with the next.

But there's more to come! Currently available in the Regular version, Raconteurs is in the process of unveiling an alternate flourish set. Stay tuned as it prepares to make its debut in a monolinear version, promising even greater versatility and style.

The image shows the lowercase letters 'a' and 'b' in a fluid, cursive script font. The 'a' has a single continuous stroke with a loop at the top, and the 'b' also features a continuous stroke with a large loop.

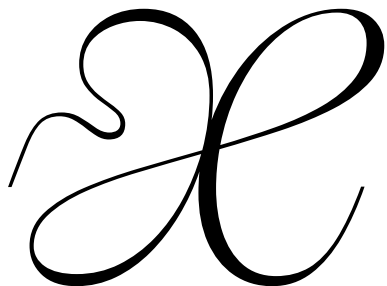

A script font

The image shows the lowercase letter 'n' created using a single continuous stroke, demonstrating the 'one stroke' design feature.

One stroke

The image shows the uppercase letters 'S' and 'M' in a highly decorative, handwritten-style script where the letters are connected to each other.

Handwritten connected script

The image shows the lowercase letter 'x' in a script font, characterized by multiple overlapping loops and a fluid, calligraphic style.

Loops

The image shows the lowercase letter 'n' in a script font, highlighting the high contrast between the thick downstrokes and the thin upstrokes.

High contrast

The image shows the oldstyle figures '8' and '2' in a script font, featuring elegant, decorative flourishes and a classic, historical aesthetic.

The image displays the word "Hype" in a highly decorative, cursive script. The letters are thick and black, with elegant, sweeping flourishes. The 'H' has a large, ornate loop on its left side. The 'y' features a deep, elongated descender that loops back up. The overall style is reminiscent of 18th or 19th-century calligraphy.
